SGT. J. T. K. LEE

Sergeant J. T. K. Lee, of Route 3, Picayune, Miss., a Hancock County boy, was awarded the Bronze Star, for performance of meritorious service in action against the enemy at Bougainville, Solomon Islands, on 13, March, 1944. As a machine-gun squad leader Sergeant Lee's position was heavily attacked, but he directed and controlled his fire in an exemplary manner. He volunteered for and joined in the two flank attacks which were necessary to drive the enemy from the perimeter. His work throughout the action was marked by leadership and devotion to duty. His home address is R. F. D., No. 3, Box 94, Picayune, Mississippi.

Mr. and Mrs. Lucas Pucheu are in receipt of the following letter from their son Lucas, Jr., who is a prisoner of war in Germany: "KRIEGSEFANGENLAGER Datum: April 2, 1944

Dear Mother: Just a line to let you know that I am fine and in good health, so please don't worry about me. Please write me often. Give Clara a big kiss from me and also tell Mr. Red Favre hello for me. Your loving son, Lucas, Jr."

The many friends of this young man in Bay St. Louis are hoping and praying that he will safely return to his parents and loved ones at a date not far distant.

ENTERTAINS AT INFORMAL PARTY

Mrs. N. L. Carter entertained at her home on Wednesday morning at a small informal party for Mrs. Geo. P. Phillips.

The guest list included only members of the Episcopal Guild and those present were Mrs. Phillips' mother Mrs. Warwick Aiken and Mesdames Sherwood Aiken, Hugh Aiken, G. V. W. Lyman, L. T. Boyd, H. A. Oxenheime, Caroline Dale Smedley, Carl Marshall, L. H. Fairchild, John Bell, A. D. Dresser, Harold May, Russell Caffery, A. L. Rau and her sister Mrs. Louis Datz of St. Louis, Edith Wurtelle, Clem B. ENTERTAINS AT PICNIC LUNCHEON-BRIDGE

Mrs. Hugh Andrews entertained at a picnic luncheon and bridge party on the patio of her home at Henderson Point complementing the committee who served with her in the benefit party for the Kings Daughters Hospital here.

Other members of the auxiliary joined them later for a social hour. Plans were discussed for a Field Day at Camp Kittiwake.

Mr. and Mrs. August Rauxet had as their guest Mrs. Rauxet's brother Quartermaster Sgt. Lewis Demorelle.

This was a great joy for Mrs. Rauxet for she had not seen her brother for 19 years. Sgt. Demorelle saw service in World War I with active combat duty in France and shortly after his return to this country joined the Regular Army. He has been stationed all these years in Panama and was recently in service down in the Pacific area.

Sgt. Demorelle left for Miami, Florida, to await further orders. Miss Odele Rauxet was also at home for this happy reunion.

The officers of the U. S. M. M. C. B. S. at Henderson Point entertained at an informal dance at the W. O. W. Hall on Saturday night with evening clothes barred.

All cars were put aside and everyone went in for a good time. Mrs. Howard Smith dancing with Lieut. J. Bech won the live chicken for the lucky number dance and Miss Alice Kelleher, New Orleans, dancing with Mark Steiner won the pillow case in the Waltz contest. Lieutenant Bech was the prize winner in the beer drinking contests for successfully drinking it through a baby nipple.

COUNTY OVERALL QUOTA MET IN BOND DRIVE

"E" Bond Quota Lagging—Have Until July 31st To Raise Approximately $45,000.00

The Fifth War Loan Drive in Hancock County has reached the total sum of $378,000.00. Of this amount approximately $80,000.00 represents E Bonds. The over all quota for the county was $325,000.00. The E Bond quota was $125,000.00. At this time we have exceeded our over all quota by approximately $45,000.00 shy of reaching our E Bond quota.

The drive officially ended for the purchase of all securities, excepting E Bonds, on July 8th. E Bonds may be purchased, and the county will receive credit for these purchases, up until July 31st.

The people of Hancock County owe it to themselves and to the men in service to meet the War Bond quota. E Bonds represent mostly the purchase made by individuals, or small investors. This quota can be met if the individuals throughout the county who have not purchased war bonds in this drive will come to the front and buy some bonds. There are not many people in the county who cannot afford to buy a $18.75 War Bond, and there are many who can purchase bonds far in excess of this amount who have not as yet bought any bonds.

Every individual owes a duty to his country, regardless of what his opinion may be as to the manner in which the government is carried on. He owes a duty to help raise the money to defend his country, a duty to the men in service to see that they receive the necessary equipment and supplies to carry on a war. If you have not yet purchased your war bonds in the Fifth War Bond Drive, won't you call at the Post Office, the Peoples Federal Savings and Loan Association, the A. & G. Theatre, or at one of the banks to secure your bonds. You are not going to find any investment better than a War Bond, and in purchasing bonds you will be helping your country, the men in service, and will be helping your county to raise its final quota in this drive.

Library Notes

The Library is in receipt of twenty-four books which are quite sure all of our readers will be eager to read. Come in and look them over.

Among them you will find "Anger in the Sky" by Ertz; "Home is the Hunter" by De Poncins; "Airing in a Closed Carriage" by Shearing; this is a good thriller; "Double, Double, Toil and Trouble" by Feuchwanger; "Celia's House" by Stevenson; and many others that should be popular with our clientele.

Carnegie has also sent us four junior books which our younger readers are already taking advantage of and which are good reading.

New Officers Bay Rotary Club Installed

The new officers for the Bay St. Louis Rotary took their seats at the regular weekly luncheon on Wednesday. Horace L. Kergosien, president, A. E. Cox, vice-president, Joe Kern, secretary and treasurer.

Guests at the luncheon were Major William Ross Pitcairn, Jr., and his brother-in-law, J. R. Septic of Pittsburg, Penn.

Mr. W. J. Scrimshaw, a new member, entertained the group with clever sleight of hand tricks. Mr. Scrimshaw is a splendid magician and the men enjoyed his entertainment.

Death of Mrs. Edith E. McCreary

Mrs. Edith E. McCreary, formerly of Cleveland, Ohio, died Monday night at 11 p. m. at the home of her daughter, Mrs. H. E. Miles at 374 Jeff Davis Avenue, Waveland. Services will be held Friday morning at Christ Episcopal Church with interment in Live Oak Cemetery at Pass Christian. The funeral was held waiting the arrival of relatives.

Mrs. McCreary had been residing in Waveland since 1943 and Mr. Miles is in business in New Orleans and commutes daily.

In Hospital With Broken Leg

Henry Osinich, Jr., 20, Army Air Corps Artillery is in a New Guinea hospital with a broken leg, according to advice received by his father here. He has been in the service for eight months and was with the unit that after landing in Australia, took over the group of outlying small islands. In a recent letter to his father he said that his battalion has gone out but unfortunately his leg was still in a cast.

HOME ON FURLOUGH

PVT. LATHAN GARRIGA

Private Lathan Garriga, who is in the Hq. Det. 760th M. P. Battalion, stationed somewhere in Panama, is home on an 18-day furlough, visiting his wife and other members of his family.

He arrived in New Orleans last week along with other members of his company on official Army business and was granted a furlough before returning to duty.

One hundred million per month! Staggering figures to most of us, but this is the amount of dressings deemed necessary by the Army and Navy to be supplied by the American Red Cross. The Southeastern Area, of which Hancock County is a part, is required to produce 15,000,000 of these dressings. Hancock County has been assigned 18,000 per month. A mere drop in the bucket, but a most important and essential drop, for without this particular drop the bucket would not be filled. It is vital that this work be done by volunteers, as the commercial houses, which in peace times, supplied the sterile dressings, have had to turn their outputs to other essentials, that cannot be handled by volunteer workers. So it is up to the women of the county to see that these dressings are made. Hancock County has fallen short in production, the Southeastern Area has fallen short in its allotted quota. Suppose the men on the front lines fell short in their jobs?

The quota for Bay St. Louis of bandages to be made weekly is 3,500. The rest of the assignment is made up by outlying districts. We must make a very urgent appeal to you women to please come to work whenever it is possible. The rooms are opened every day of the week with the exceptions of Saturday and Sunday, and also on Wednesday from seven in the evening. The place is the Masonic Temple Bldg. If you are in town, and have even so few as fifteen or twenty minutes to spare, why not go up to the rooms. Every bandage made by you, means that much nearer the completion of the quota assigned for us. We do not want our County to fall down. You can make your County proud of you and also do a most important job for the man on the front lines. His aim is to reach Berlin, let your aim be to speed him on his way, by meeting every requirement for his needs.

The quarterly meeting of the Executive Board of the Hancock County Chapter of the American Red Cross, was held recently in the Court House Bldg. At this meeting Mr. Walter Gex, chairman for the county, appointed a new corps of Home Services Workers. They are Mrs. Josie Olsen, Mrs. Octave Delph, Mrs. Lamar Otis, and Mrs. Roger Boh. This corps works through the office and in cooperation with the Executive Secretary, Mrs. Louis F. Maus.

Appointed to serve as chairmen and co-chairmen respectively of Surgical Dressings were Mrs. Walter Gex, Jr., and Mrs. A. W. Moore, who are well suited to their jobs. These two ladies have worked tirelessly since this unit was opened in Hancock County, and will make capable and industrious leaders for us to work under. May we wish them success in their jobs, and assure them of our cooperation by giving our time in this most important branch of the work.

Mrs. Maus Executive Secretary wishes to inform those who are interested in Prisoner of War correspondence, that the office is in receipt of a new form for letter writing to Prisoners of War. This form is No. 111, and is issued by the War Department, from the office of the Provost Marshal General. Mail is sent via air, envelopes are eliminated and facilities for handling this type

Altar Society Notes

Our request last week for gold, silver and jewels, met with ready response. Already pieces have been turned in to the Rectory—but more is needed, so please search carefully and see if you do not have some that, while you no longer use it, it will still be useful toward the making of the beautiful Ostensoria.

And don't forget the monthly meeting next Wednesday 19th at 3 o'clock at the Convent. We know that most of the ladies cannot spare the time to come to these meetings, still with the nice size membership we now have, surely a few can take time once a month to attend. The men are working hard these days toward finding ways and means to raise money to finish our Church, and we ladies should do our share. Let's not let them do it all.

UNITED STATES RANGER AWARDED MEDAL

This past week we received the following letters from Sgt. Roland C. Johnston, who is attached to the United States Rangers somewhere in Italy:

Dear Sir: Just a few lines to let you know that I am still kicking and making out just fine.

Mr. Red, I have been doing a lot of fighting in the last few days and I had quite a time, too. I had the honor of knocking out a machine gun nest all alone. You see, we were street fighting and I got hit by machine bullets, and I guess it must have made me mad, 'cause I charged the damn thing all alone. All I had left was two grenades and I let the Japs have both of them. They shot my rifle all to pieces. Well they won't shoot any more.

SGT. ROLAND C. JOHNSTON

Well, I have been awarded a medal and also the Purple Heart. Well Sir, as I told you once before, the boys over here are doing a swell job, and I don't think it will be so long now.

Tell the folks I said 'hello.' Your friend, Roland.

Somewhere in Italy June 25, 1944

Hello, Mr. Red:

Just a few lines to let you know that I am getting along just fine and hope this finds you at the folks at home all well.

Mr. Red, I see in the paper where our boys raised hell with the Jap fleet the other day and I am telling you, I sure was glad to hear it, 'cause that little job our boys did will shorten this war a hell of a lot, and I don't mean maybe. I hope they keep right on their tail and wipe them off the map.

I have a picture I am sending you. It was taken a long time ago when I was a kid. Some of the boys in the picture are in the service now and, if it is possible, I wish you could send me some of their addresses as I would like to drop them a few lines to see how they are.

Well, Mr. Red, there is a lot I would like to tell you, but you know how these censors are. I will say this much anyway, I have seen Rome and the first day in we had some heavy fighting. That's where I got wounded.

I will close for this time as I have a lot of work to do and it is getting late. Tell all the folks at home, hello, and to keep their chins up and buy a lot of War Bonds. You know the old saying, every little helps.

So long for this time. Your friend, Roland.

We are indeed, very happy to see what this boy has done for his country. We have known him from childhood and we know the difficulties that he encountered in early life. Being left an orphan when quite young, he probably did not have the opportunities that the average boy has today. He has been awarded both a medal and the Purple Heart by his government for the services that he has rendered, which is, indeed, very commendable.

We are certain that all who know Sergeant Johnston are pulling for him and hoping upon his return he will assume his place in civilian life and strive to accomplish as much therein as he has in the service of his country.

We should appreciate the efforts that boys of this type are putting forth—fighting, so that we at home may continue to enjoy that which we have always had. We are pulling for him and will lend every effort to help rehabilitate him and other boys who return from this great conflict.

INFORMATION ON FISHING AND HUNTING LICENSES

Many inquiries have been made relative to the new law pertaining to fishing and hunting licenses. Game Warden Randolph Bourgeois has been kind enough to furnish us with the information which is as follows:

Any resident of the State of Mississippi has the privilege of fishing from the bank of a stream or from a boat with a pole and line, with dead bait, or live bait, without a license. However, if he has artificial bait in his possession he is subject to a license and must have one, as the prima facie evidence is that he has been using the said artificial bait, or intends to use it, and he is subject to arrest and conviction if he has no license.

The cost of an ordinary fishing license is $1.00, plus 25c to the issuing officer. There is a combination hunting and fishing license, authorized by the last session of the legislature, which sells for $3.00, plus 25c to the issuing officer, and which entitles residents of the State of Mississippi to hunt and fish over the entire State. It also grants the privilege of hunting deer in counties where open season exists.

The law as applicable to non-residents provides that they are required to have a license for the use of artificial bait. Non-residents are not required to have a fishing license for the fishing of salt water fish. However, in fishing in the rivers and bayous, or if they have in their possession game fish or artificial bait, they are required to have a non-resident license. The cost of a non-resident license is $3.00 plus 25c to the issuing officer.

Residents of the State of Mississippi over the age of 65 years are not required to have either hunting or fishing license, but must have a certificate from the Clerk of Courts, showing that they are over the required age. This does not apply to non-residents. All non-residents must have a license.

Mr. Bourgeois is hopeful that all of the boys who enjoy the sport of fishing will abide by the requirements. He, above all, does not like to have to place a man who is enjoying a little fishing under arrest. However, if the party is violating the game and fish law, there is nothing that he can do but enforce the law and perform his duty. Much emphasis could probably be saved many individuals and the game warden, if those interested in this particular sport would only take time out to make some inquiries as to the laws regulating fishing and hunting, and secure the necessary licenses.

We hope that all interested parties will cooperate with the game warden and lend him the necessary assistance.

Removal of the highest price line limitation effecting retail sellers in five price regulations, has been announced by OPA at Jackson. Women's, girls, children's and toddlers' outerwear garments, women's fur garments and men's and boys' tailored clothing may now be priced at retail without regard for the highest price line limitation, OPA explained.

Most price increases for cotton textile items, bringing them into compliance with the new Stabilization Act of 1944, will be absorbed before textiles and clothing reach buyers, OPA said recently. The upward adjustments will amount to but a fraction of the raises asked for in original proposals to Congress, OPA said.

OPA said that price increases at the mill level were estimated to amount to from $25,000,000 to $50,000,000 under the extension act, which requires that ceiling prices on each major cotton textile item, separately considered, must reflect parity to the grower.

Helped Themselves To A Piece of Linoleum

On last Saturday night at about ten minutes to 9:00 o'clock, someone stopped in front of the Bay Mercantile Company and helped themselves to a piece of black linoleum measuring nine feet by twenty feet in length.

Mr. Osinich, proprietor of the Bay Mercantile Co., tells us that this was done during store hours and at a time when the front of the building was completely lighted.

This particular piece of linoleum had been cut for a purchaser and was on the sidewalk to be delivered at 9:10 o'clock.

Mr. Osinich is particularly desirous of knowing what has happened to his linoleum and would certainly appreciate any information that may be given him about it.

WAR BONDS

THE purchase of war bonds does not establish the patriotism of any citizen of Hancock County, but the failure to have participated in the Fifth War Bond Drive when financially able to buy bonds certainly suggests a lack of loyalty.

It would not be essentially wrong for the nation to insist that those financially able to make a direct contribution to the war, especially when we know that capital reserves of all kinds will become worthless in the event that our enemies triumph. A man worth one million dollars stands to lose ten times as much as a man worth a hundred thousand, in the unlikely event of our defeat.

The government, however, does not ask its people, whether capitalists or wage-earners, to give any part of their protected property. Instead, it seeks a loan, promising to pay reasonable interest for all money that it borrows. To permit us to guarantee the safety of our stake in American capitalism, without exacting a toll, represents a distinct bargain to those who possess anything.

Nations have financed wars by the process of confiscation, either of the goods of an enemy people or of their own nationals. Germany has ruthlessly exploited conquered people in order to secure necessary materials and the Nazi regime has been high-handed in regard to its own citizens.

The Russians have managed to wage a remarkable war without stupendous borrowings. It would be possible for the United States to seize any property necessary to war-making and to confiscate plants and capital in order to successfully defend this country.

The fact that the nation seeks to borrow from its people and assumes the tremendous burden of interest that inevitably follows is substantial insurance for the continued existence of our capitalistic system. The insurance, however, will be void if those who enjoy the fruits of capitalism are unwilling to lend some of their financial strength to the support of the nation.

The purchase of a War Bond offers every citizen the opportunity to effect some savings, which is advisable during an era of lush profits and high wages. Every dollar invested in a War Bond represents a capital reserve, set aside as financial protection in the event of adversity. That is a wise precaution for every individual and every business and should be undertaken regardless of the war-necessity.

The quota for Hancock County in the Fifth War Bond Drive was $305,000.00. The E Bond quota was $125,000.00. This amount was not excessive in comparison with the worth and resources of the county. These figures are arrived at by simple calculations of bank deposits.

The over all quota for Hancock County was exceeded. However, the E Bond quota has not been met and we are still approximately 40% behind in this quota. We have until July 31st to reach the E Bond Quota of $125,000.00.

There has been an apparent lack of interest by the smaller investors throughout the county in the purchase of war bonds in this drive. If a survey of these individuals were made, it would be found that practically every one of them has some member of their family in the armed service of their country.

We owe a duty to these boys, particularly those who are members of our family, to back them with every possible financial assistance. It is now necessary that they be furnished every necessary bit of equipment and supplies to carry on the great battles in which they are now engaged.

In investing in War Bonds any excess money that you may have, you are not only backing our men in service and fortifying against a possible depression following the war, but you are investing in one of the greatest countries in the world, the United States of America.

INTOLERANCE AND BIGOTRY

EVERY enlightened individual understands the peril that accompanies intolerance and bigotry and, consequently, the importance of developing tolerance and understanding.

The first step in improving the relationship between groups is to understand that intolerance and bigotry have existed in the world for ages and that the fight to eliminate them depends upon the development of human beings into more civilized and more religious persons.

In this country, at the present time, there is a tendency to believe that intolerance and bigotry are Nazi-inspired. In fact, the idea was recently advanced in a public gathering of school teachers and administrators. While the enemy may exploit intolerance and bigotry that exist it is a mistake to assume that these defects in personality will disappear with the defeat of Germany.

Certain groups evidence a belief that tolerance can be promoted by compulsion and that friendship will grow if people are forced to associate with each other. This theory is wrong and only more ill feeling and animosity can arise from it.

In order to overcome intolerance and bigotry there must be a better understanding between various divergent groups, and this can only result from mutual friendship and understanding.

It is strange how tired a man can be on Sunday morning, about church time, and how quickly he can recover by mid-afternoon, if something turns up.

It is time for every citizen to buy a war bond if possible; there is no excuse for home front slackers in this matter.

Unfortunately, there are some Americans who are not yet convinced that their nation requires anything from them, except complaints.

Price control will be necessary after the war ends; otherwise the demand for consumer goods will lead to inflated prices as every American tries to buy, at the same time, what he has been waiting for.

POPULAR HOLIDAY

July 4th, probably Mississippi's most popular holiday, was celebrated last week even more generally than usual. A majority of business houses and offices voluntarily added Monday as a holiday too so as to give working people two days instead of one, and Sunday added gave three days of rest. In many cases the 5th bond drive was emphasized on the 4th and good speeches were made on the subject, "Liberty and National Security," being played up in connection with the Loan Drive, and the war being vigorously fought on all fronts.

BIENNIUM CLOSED

Friday, June 30th, closed another fiscal year in the state and also another biennium. On July 1st the new appropriations for the general support of the government went into effect. Where salaries or support of schools and state institutions were raised or lowered the rate became effective July 1st. The fiscal year closed with a general fund balance of $8,896,979 in the State Treasury with all bills maturing prior to that date paid. In addition to this balance an amount exceeding two million dollars was turned into the treasury on Saturday, July 1st, bringing the total balance on the first day of the new biennium to approximately $11,000,000. Out of this balance monthly payments for June will be paid, of course. Around August and September withdrawals will be heavy to meet school appropriations. However, present prospects indicate that a balance around or above eight million will be maintained during the remainder of this calendar year. Tax commission collections for the first six months of 1944 amounted to $17,403,387.12, this being substantially two million above the same period of 1943.

Highway bonds, which are paid exclusively out of the gasoline tax, have all been paid as they matured, and the usual amount of gasoline tax money has been returned to the counties, and some left for highway department, which is a very satisfactory record in view of the gasoline situation.

MISSISSIPPI PRESS

E. G. Sellers, editor of the George County Times of Lucedale, was elected president of the Mississippi Press Association in its 78th annual convention held in Jackson a few days ago. Mr. Sellers has assumed the duties of his new position with a degree of enthusiasm that indicates his deep interest in the welfare of the state press. In the same meeting Austin Seay, Winona Times, was elected vice-president and Matt Vernon of the Columbia Progress, was given the position of secretary. The Memorial Committee reported the death of six editors during the year, as follows: Lt. Tommy Becker, killed in military service in the Pacific; R. M. Hederman, of the Jackson Clarion-Ledger; L. H. Bowen, Brookhaven Times; W. J. Wilkes, the Daily Herald, Gulfport-Biloxi; W. C. Hight, the Journal, Louisville; G. E. Denley, the Courier, Coffeeville.

"BUFFALO BILL" IS SCREEN'S MIGHTIEST ADVENTURE DRAMA!

At A. & G. THEATER Sunday and Monday—20th Century-Fox Technicolor Thrill Spectacle

Riding out of the West we've always loved and thrilled to... from out of the action-swept and romantic stage-coach and covered wagon days... America's greatest legendary figure comes to the screen of the A. & G. Theatre Sunday and Monday in 20th Century-Fox's spectacular Technicolor production, "Buffalo Bill".

Starring Joel McCrea, Maureen O'Hara and Linda Darnell, and given a production such as only the makers of the unforgettably thrilling "Jesse James" and "Western Union" could provide, "Buffalo Bill" towers above all other as the mightiest adventure film the screen has ever known.

For years, the colorful, thrilling story of "Buffalo Bill" Cody's life has challenged filmdom. Today invested with timeless legend, countless thrills, exciting romance, a great cast and magnificent production, and a story as incomparable as the frontiersman hero himself, "Buffalo Bill" is on the screen with bigness, scope and brilliance that puts it high among the pictures you'll always cherish.

Here indeed is the figure of a man to conjure with, to fill the screen with roaring adventure and tempestuous passions.

In the title role, Joel McCrea achieves the full promise of acting greatness all his previous roles have presaged. His performance is the outstanding triumph of his career. Maureen O'Hara as Louisa Cody is nothing short of superb. She plays the part with a fire and warmth that easily marks it as her greatest portrayal. Linda Darnell in the role of Dawn Starlight, the beautiful Indian girl who loved Buffalo Bill above all else, gives a thrilling and unforgettable performance.

Thomas Mitchell as the newspaper man who made Buffalo Bill a National figure; Edgar Buchanan as Sergeant Chips; and Anthony Quinn as Yellow Hand, give outstanding performance as do Moroni Olsen, Frank Fenton, Matt Briggs, George Lessey and Frank Orth.

Harry A. Sherman has produced "Buffalo Bill" in glorious Technicolor of incredible beauty and brilliance. The screen play was written by A. Eneas MacKenzie, Clements Ripley and Cecil Kramer, based on a story by Frank Winch.

Never before has the history of a great adventure and the conquest of a woman's love been told so majestically, so colorfully and so excitingly. All of which means that "Buffalo Bill" deserves top spot on your "must see" motion picture list.

INDUSTRY BOARD

Gov. Bailey has appointed the Industry Board to look after the matter of "balancing agriculture with industry," which was the slogan of Gov. White's administration. The Board is supposed to get together at an early date and map out a program and get to work on it. Members appointed by Gov. Bailey are as follows: L. P. Sweat, Gulfport; Geo. Pecaro, Meridian; John C. Hay, Jackson; F. A. Anderson, Sr., Gloster; Birney Imes, Sr., Columbus; L. A. Wolfe, Henry Sargent, Jackson; Harvey Lee Morrison, Okolona; Joe W. Whitwell, Senatobia. Gov. Bailey announced that he would appoint the 10th member later and that he would be the executive leader. Members of the board are to serve for four years and the director is to receive a salary of $6,000.00 a year.

MARKETING COMMISSION

Gov. Bailey has named the State Marketing Commission provided for under an act of the 1944 Legislative session. One man has been appointed from each Supreme Court District, who will act with the following: Director of Extension, Commissioner of Agriculture, Director of Experiment Stations and Director of Vocational Education. The three men named by the Governor are: Rosewell H. Stevens, Macon; Bura Flynt, Mt. Olive; and Raymond Saunders, Oxford. The purpose of the Commission is to assist farmers in finding better markets for their farm production.

CONGRESSMEN RE-ELECTED

In the primary election on July 4th, the three Mississippi congressmen who had opposition were all re-elected by substantial majorities. John E. Rankin, first district; Jamie L. Whitten, Second District; Thomas G. Abernathy, fourth district. The other four congressmen had already been nominated without opposition. This means that there will be no change for the next two years in the Mississippi delegation, which is as follows: John E. Rankin, first district; Jamie L. Whitten, second district; W. M. Whittington, third district; Thos. G. Abernathy, fourth district; Arthur Winsted, fifth district; W. M. Colmer, sixth district; Dan R. McGehee, seventh district. In the 13th district Homer Currie, of Raleigh was elected Circuit Judge over two opponents. In the third Supreme Court District, Judge W. D. Anderson, incumbent, holds second place, being led by Judge L. A. Smith, Sr., of Holly Springs and trailed by Hon. W. W. Venable, of Clarksdale.

Letters From The Boys In Service

From Sgt. Gene Monti, somewhere in Italy:

"Dear Red:

Just a few words of appreciation to you and your staff who make it possible for us who are overseas to keep up with the news of our good old home town, and I know that when our job over here is finished, Bay St. Louis will welcome us on our return with glad hearts and open arms.

I see by the paper where the people of Bay St. Louis are doing a wonderful job of buying bonds and giving blood to the Red Cross. By the way, fourteen boys from this Company (18336 Ord. S. & M.) gave blood to the hospital for the boys coming back from the front. I was one of the fourteen to give a pint of blood.

I know many of the home town folks like to know the whereabouts of their boys. Well, I will give you the names of a few of the places which I have had the pleasure of visiting since our landing on the Salerno Beachhead. They are as follows: Pastum, Salerno, Avellino, Naples and Caserta.

I have just ran across another boy from Bay St. Louis which makes four of us together here in this area, Milan, Beele, Geo. E. Toca and myself. It's really nice to see your friends from home when you are so far away.

In closing, I want you to give my regards to the citizens of Bay St. Louis for the wonderful job they are doing in helping to win this war.

Sincerely,
Gene Monti."

From Pfc. Marion C. Long, Somewhere in India.

"Gentlemen:
I had not received your paper for some time until today, and it had been sent to one of my former addresses and took quite some time to get here. The paper is the next thing to mail from home and believe me, that is something over here.

I have written you my new address but probably the letter was lost. Please send the paper to the address enclosed.

Thanks a million for the wonderful service.

Sincerely yours,
Pvt. Long."

From Sgt. Stanley R. Bourgeois in New Guinea.

Dear Editor:
I want to write you and try to express my gratitude and appreciation for your effort to keep me and the other boys from our town informed of the news that is taking place at home. As for myself, tomorrow I celebrate my first anniversary overseas, and I must confess, I have high hopes of celebrating my next one back in Waveland.

The boys here, including myself, are indeed optimistic for the future and we never cease talking of the good times in store for us after our homecoming. That is our most discussed topic, and perhaps there are times, and there may be times when the conditions and outside force may give us some uncomfortable moments, but nevertheless, our enthusiasm and optimism for the future is never darkened.

So long and tell the boys they have a date with me on my return, and we will discuss some of our experiences.

Yours,
A New Guinea Optimist,
Sgt. Stanley R. Bourgeois.

From Jesse F. (Lucky) Lafontaine, somewhere in Italy:

"Hello Friends:
Just received the Echo and thought I should drop a line and word of thanks. If only it would be possible to put the boys address along with their name, we would have a better chance of meeting.

I have had good luck at reunions. I have met Ray Bordages, and Russell Lafontaine. Russell was unfortunate in the Italian Drive. He now has the Purple Heart and doing fine. I am in a noncombat outfit, but don't think we don't work. I never thought communications was so important. I think I am in the best outfit overseas and all the men know their business from civilian life. It's men like us guys and folks like you that keep the cold steel and hot lead heading for Berlin.

You can bet that the "Echo" helps to keep these men going. I want to thank you again and hope to continue receiving the paper.

Always,
J. F. L. (Lucky)"

From Sgt. Lawrence Ellis, Somewhere in India.

"Dear Red:
I received your paper for the first time since I have been in India, but I know you have been trying to send it to me. My mail has not been

AT ORTTE THEATRE WED. — THURSDAY JEAN GABIN IN "THE IMPOSTOR"

One look at Jean Gabin is sufficient proof that he is back in the element he likes and understands best, the type of realistic role which made him France's Number One actor and the outstanding dramatic star of the Continent.

As the title player in "The Impostor," which Gabin's friend, Julien Duvivier, produced and directed for Universal, Gabin wears a beard which is well over a week old. An overseas cap sits on the back of his head, and his prematurely grey hair hangs down in front.

"The Impostor" comes Wednesday-Thursday to Ortte theatre.

In his French films Gabin deservedly was known as a representative "man of the people." He played such roles exclusively, because that is the type of part for which he was best fitted.

Until he became a thespian, Gabin had always experienced economic hardship. He had a shyness which made him resist a theatrical career, although both his parents were professionals. For six years, from the age of 14 until he was 20, Gabin was a worker in a foundry near Creil, France.

Gabin's appearance in "The Impostor" renews the actor's association with Duvivier, who directed five of Gabin's French pictures: "Maria Capelaine," "Golgotha," "La Bandera," "La Belle Equipe" and the famous "Pepe le Moko," made in America as "Algiers."

His second American film presents Gabin as a working man who has been convicted of killing a policeman in a strike, and is sentenced to be guillotined. He escapes during an air raid on the prison, changes identity by taking the papers and uniform of a dead French army sergeant, and makes his way to Africa.

Gabin's character is a bitter and disillusioned victim of society. Then he joins De Gaulle, and is regenerated through the intense fighting spirit of the Free French. Through the patriotism and devotion of a group of soldiers he becomes a natural leader.

getting to me just right as yet, but I guess as time goes by it will change. It sure is good to receive the news from home.

I'm sure glad everybody is doing fine back there.

It's O. K. here in India, except there is no place like that little town of Bay St. Louis.

I have been transferred out of the squadron I was in, but I'm getting along fine in the new Squadron that I am in at the present time.

Thanks a million for the paper and keep up the good work.

From Richard A. Koch, M. M. 31, Somewhere in the Southwest Pacific.

"Dear Red:
Just a few lines to let you know that I have been receiving your paper regularly ever since leaving the States. I devour every word of it. I have been reading a lot of letters that you have published from other fellows in the service from Bay St. Louis. I notice a lot of them are out this way, but so far I have not run into any of them.

I have seen fourteen months of service over here. I am ready to go back to the States any old time. Maybe now that the big invasion has started it won't be long.

I have been through a lot of bombing raids and found out that I am a pretty good bomb dodger and can get in a fox hole just as soon as the next guy.

head on New Guinea Island, and we did a pretty good job there.

Nothing is very hot where I am now except the weather. We even had one fresh egg for breakfast twice this week.

Give my best regards to everybody and tell "Cuz Inez" I said hello.

Sincerely yours,
Dick."

From Cpl. Joe P. Favre, Somewhere in Italy.

"Dear Red:
I am sorry about not hearing from you. I have written to you, but it may be that some of my letters got lost. I also wrote Walter Gex and asked him to tell all hello for me.

I haven't seen any of my letters in the "Echo," nor have I met any of the boys over here. I don't suppose, however, that I am the only boy from the Bay on the Anzio Beachhead. Perhaps if any of them are near here, you could let me know in your next letter to me.

I would like to see some of the boys from home as I get pretty lonesome for them.

I want to thank all of you for your good will in sending me the paper. I am feeling fine and hope you are the same.

Tell all at home hello for me.

Your friend,
Cpl. Joe P. Favre.

Not an A Card in Ye Group

Wherever they went, they walked . . . on guard at every step. Hardships taught our forefathers the virtue of self-reliance and the need for co-operation. Thus, in the humble cradle of privation, the spirit of our Democracy was born.

Our enemies foolishly ignored the enduring influence of our Nation's heritage when they jeered that we were too soft to fight. Little did they dream that, almost overnight, free men could perfect the finest and best-equipped fighting forces the world has ever seen.

So, today when good citizens see an A card on a windshield, they recognize it as a symbol of what people can accomplish who have learned from experience to work together to attain a common objective.

That same spirit will win this war—and in peacetime that same unity of effort will keep America strong and prosperous for our men and women now on the fighting front.

ORTTE THEATRE
SUNDAY AND MONDAY
"CRY HAVOC"With Margaret Sullivan,
Ann Sothorn, Joan
Blondell

One of the most interesting all-feminine cast ever to appear in a single film has been assembled by M-G-M for "Cry Havoc," the stirring filmization of the much-talked-about hit play.

"Cry Havoc," the new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer film is an intense and gripping drama realistically depicting the heroism of thirteen women who stay behind with the wounded during General MacArthur's delaying withdrawal from Bataan.

Margaret Sullivan, Ann Sothorn, and Joan Blondell star as three of the courageous women whose conduct in their country never wavered. At a base hospital in Bataan, doctors and nurses aides are desperately needed to care for the wounded. Fay Bainter, Margaret Sullivan, and Marsha Hunt are the only remaining workers in their unit. Six girls volunteer to help them. These girls are from all walks of life but united by a common cause.

From the very first friction develops between Ann Sothorn, a good-hearted but wise-cracking girl, and Margaret Sullivan. They are both in love with the same man. It is not until he is killed in action that Ann learns he was secretly married to Margaret. With this disclosure all their differences are patched up.

Based on Noted Play

"Cry Havoc," which is based on the successful stage play of the same name, presents a vivid and real picture of the epic struggle on Bataan. The all-star cast rises to the inspirational theme and every performance stands out as a sharply etched characterization. Margaret Sullivan is lovely and sympathetic in the role of the overworked nurse, Diana Lewis as adroitly dumb Alabama-born flit is charming and fluffy. Dorothy Morris will never be forgotten as the young English girl whose mind is deranged by the shock of undergoing a Jap bombing in a foxhole.

Other members of the cast are Ella Raines, Frances Gifford, Heather Angel, playing an English girl, Connie Gilchrist as the lovable motherly cook, and Fely Franquelli, a Filipino girl. Richard Thorpe directed and Edwin Knopf produced.

Vengeance... from the Gulf South*

This airplane represents more than simply another sweep across enemy lines to the attack. It is a fighting memorial to the employees of our Company who have made the supreme sacrifice for freedom, and it was bought and paid for by the personal sacrifice of our home front employees.

For in the 4th War Loan, our Caddo Parish, Louisiana, employees, who were already buying War Bonds through payroll allotments, went beyond that. They oversubscribed their quota of additional War Bonds by enough to pay for this $75,000 plane and nearly $10,000 more, and earned the right to name the ship.

Our organization is, and the Gulf South as a whole can be, deeply proud of the "United's Gold Star Avenger."

Stanislaus Valedictory Address in Congressional Records

Because of the noble sentiment expressed and the manner in which it was delivered, the Valedictory address of James C. Carter of St. Stanislaus College was placed in its entirety into the Congressional Records.

Once again this makes us recognize the outstanding training the students of St. Stanislaus receive from the Brothers of the Sacred Heart.

Carter has always been a fine student and the address was written without any help from his instructors. He merely proved his ability gained from knowledge received at this fine institution.

James is the son of Capt. and Mrs. J. C. Carter of New Orleans, La.

Buy 'em and Keep 'em WAR BONDS

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

The New Wartime style in food

Dan Miles allows he's swimming right in style these days. Dan's always made a point of finishing up whatever food was put before him. "Don't make sense to waste food just to be stylish," he says.

Now out comes an etiquette authority who says it's wartime fashion to take only what you're going to eat—and finish it up clean—because "Food Fights for Freedom."

As Doc Mitchell says, "Most folks eat too much anyway. Man, and boy, I've watched this town for years, and 75% of us dig our own graves with our teeth."

From where I sit, this new style in eating may lead to moderation, and moderation has never hurt anybody.

In fact, you find moderation and tolerance go hand in hand... whether it's what you eat or what you think... Or whether one man prefers a moderate glass of ale when you yourself would rather have a soda.
